Welcome to Visual Arts in the Valley 2018

On behalf the entire team at Arts in the Valley, welcome to the Kangaroo Valley Art Prize Exhibition with Featured Artist, Vanessa Stockard.

Arts in the Valley hosts a wide range of music, sculpture and art in the Valley. This year, thanks to generous donations from local residents and two organisations, plus a team of creative and industrious volunteers, we are pleased to expand the visual arts into what we hope will become a major regional exhibition.

Significant prize money this year has drawn 418 entries from emerging and established artists throughout NSW and interstate. The best 120 artworks have been chosen by our Curator, Allan Baptist OAM, for the Exhibition. He was joined for the prize judging by well-known national art figures, Natalia Bradshaw and Therese Kenyon. Some very exciting works hang including the winner of the inaugural Kangaroo Valley Art Prize and Highly Commended. We invite you to vote for the People's Choice Award, to be announced at 12 noon on Monday 1 October.

As a Featured Artist, we have invited Vanessa Stockard, dual Archibald Finalist (2017, 2018), to hold a solo show. This is Vanessa's 21st solo show. She's been in close to 60 group shows in Sydney, Melbourne, Hong Kong, Miami, Berkeley, Portland and New York City. We think you'll find her latest work highly interesting.

All artworks are for sale at the Exhibition and simultaneously through Arts in the Valley website: www.artsinthevalley.net.au/online-gallery

We invite you to attend the Gallery Tour & Talk with noted Sydney artist and judge, Dr Therese Kenyon, on Saturday 1:30-2:00pm. Please also visit the Art Café at the back of the Gallery for locally sourced cakes and the best locally roasted coffee.

Visual Arts Director

Curator and Judges

Curator: Allan Baptist OAM

Artist, educator, curator and supporter of the arts. Draws inspiration from the light and moods of the South Coast, the openness and drama of the Australian outback and the human form and dignity of the peoples of Bali and Africa. Has exhibited in solo and group shows throughout NSW and around Australia, and in galleries in Sydney, Canberra and Perth.

Judge: Dr Therese Kenyon

Artist, educator, curator and writer. Former Director, Manly Art Gallery and University of Sydney Tin Sheds Gallery & Art Workshops. Solo shows in Sydney, Adelaide and Auckland; group shows across Australia and internationally. Artist-in-residence, Bundanon Trust, Riversdale 2003; National Art School 2006-07, 2017. PhD, Australian National University, 2016. Director, Eramboo Artist Environment.

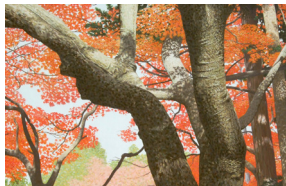

Judge: Natalia Bradshaw

Art consultant, private art curator and one of Australia's most influential art advocates. Held key roles at the MCA, Art Gallery of NSW and Australia Council. Helped relaunch Art & Australia; board member of Art Month. Currently on the UNSW Art & Design Advisory Council and the Australian Museum Foundation.

Gallery Tour & Talk

We invite you to attend the Gallery Tour & Talk with noted Sydney artist and judge, Dr Therese Kenyon, on Saturday 1:30-2:00pm.

Please also visit the Art Café at the back of the Gallery for locally sourced cakes and the best locally roasted coffee.

Featured Artist: Vanessa Stockard

This year we are thrilled to welcome an emerging national artist, Vanessa Stockard, dual Archibald Finalist (2017, 2018), as our first Featured Artist. Her work can be seen in a one-person show in the Supper Room and Green Room.

Vanessa Stockard is a contemporary Australian artist who has been painting and exhibiting for over 20 years. Born in 1975 in Sydney, with her studio now in Bowral, NSW, she spent her formative years in a small country town in the Mid-North Coast of New South Wales. She attended the Julian Ashton Art School and North Sydney Art School and received her BFA from UNSW College of Fine Arts.

The imagery in her works is from close people, close nature and close surroundings; as she says, what she sees and what she imagines in everyday life. “Shadows and reflections carefully rendered reveal the distortion of thoughts and experience as I try to live in the moment yet struggle to do so. I bend light around corners. Shadows and reflections are nonsensical yet compositionally interesting. I make new connections with colour and texture in each painting.”

One commentator has noted, “The deceptive everyday nature of her subject matter belies hidden depths of relationship, feeling and emotion. One could describe her process as absence of thought, a freedom of construct, not unlike the stream of consciousness associated with authors such as Hemmingway and Thomas Wolfe.”

When you watch her video in the Supper Room, you’ll see how quickly she works, almost effortlessly, coming from inner places as if her hand is a direct extension of her vision and her emotions. She paints imagined interiors, still lifes, flowers, cats, chicken and her “weird and crazy” character, Derek Milkwood, a fictional character based on a naked, vagrant man who used to frequent bushland near where she lived in Glebe. She also paints portraits, of her daughter, of herself and of imagined characters. It is her recent evolution with portraits and imagined portraits that is so interesting.

Her earlier portraits had details but were very painterly. Over time, for example, her 2017 vs 2018 Archibald finalists, and you'll see in this show, her work has become more economical, with fewer brush strokes and fewer patches of colour defining shapes and capturing emotions. As one commentator recently said, developing like this, "She will win the Archibald."

If light and shade were students, she would be their master. This skill, combined with a naturally deft hand and a determined use of perspective, imbues her subjects with gravitas. Vanessa Stockard refers to set design elements that often alter and morph as her piece progresses.

This is Vanessa's 21st solo show since in Australia and the USA. She has been in close to 60 group shows in Sydney, Melbourne, Hong Kong, Berkeley, Portland, throughout regional NSW and most recently New York City. Her prizes include Highly Commended, Goulburn Regional Gallery, 2013; 30x30 Prize, 2017; Finalist, Portia Geach Memorial Award, 2017; and repeat Finalist, Archibald Prize, 2017 & 2018.

This coming year, she has a group show in Miami, USA, and will be part of a two-person show with Euan Macleod called 3:33 Art Projects at the Clayton Utz Art Partnership. She has also recently accepted a residency at Chateau Orquevaux, France.

I hope you will find her work interesting, imaginative, even humorous at times and thought-provoking.

Thank you to all our Donors and Supporters

Arts in the Valley would like to thank the following for their support for Visual Arts in the Valley 2018:

The Kangaroo Valley Art Prize ($5000) has been made possible through generous donations by Tony White & Alex Michael and an anonymous donor.

The Highly Commended ($1000) and People's Choice ($1000) have been made possible through generous donations by Michael Noonan, Alice Oppen OAM, John & Denise Wright, Jola Masojada and Kerri Carlton & Gary Moore.

The exhibition panel system has been made possible through partnership with the Kangaroo Valley Agricultural and Horticultural Show, and the gallery hanging system with support from the Kangaroo Valley Chamber of Tourism and Commerce.

Thank you to all our Volunteers

The Kangaroo Valley Art Prize & Exhibition would not be possible without the creative work of many volunteers who worked tirelessly throughout the year.
