All such risks remain with the artist at all times, irrespective of whether the artwork is being handled by a member of the exhibition staff. All reasonable care will be taken by Arts in the Valley.
18. All artworks accepted for the Kangaroo Valley Art Prize, Young & Emerging Prize and Salon of Local Artists Prize must be exclusively for sale by Arts in the Valley during the Exhibition and online until the end of October 2026:
 - a. The artist sets the listed gross sale price.

If any of your exhibited artwork sells during this period, the commission is payable to Arts in the Valley. This clause operates equally for represented and unrepresented artists. Packaging costs are the responsibility of the artist; delivery costs are the responsibility of the purchaser.

- b. Any artwork or video equipment held beyond Monday 5 October will incur a $20/day storage charge until collected.
 - c. Artworks requiring packaging for pick-up will incur a $20 packaging and handling fee, more if special conditions, time or materials apply. In all cases, original packing materials will be retained and used for re-packaging, wherever possible. This fee will be invoiced directly to the artist or, in the case of another artwork being sold, will be deducted from the account to the artist.
 - d. Artworks to be returned via Australia Post will incur a $20 packaging and handling fee, plus postage, more if any special conditions, time or materials apply. This fee will be added COD via AusPost at the time of posting.
 - e. Artists who wish work packaged for pick-up or posting should clearly label their original packing materials so the same materials can be used to repack unsold works. The organisers will aim to repack works in original packing materials as this can be crucial for insurance claims.
 - f. Artworks may be sold to the end of the Exhibition at 2pm on 5 October (and online after that through to 5pm on 31 October). Our sales team will endeavour to let you know as soon as your artwork sells and you are therefore not required to come and collect it at the end of the Exhibition.  - g. Anyone collecting artwork (or video equipment) on behalf of the artist must provide written evidence of their authority to collect the work(s) and proof of their ID for the artwork to be released.
 - h. If a courier is collecting your artwork or equipment, please advise our Manager, Nikki Sharp, of the name of the authorised courier at info@artsinthevalley.net.au.
 - i. Any arrangement outside of these times must be agreed in writing with the Director, Helen Lunn, via email at info@artsinthevalley.net.au
20. Visual Arts in the Valley wishes to encourage all artists to enter, including regional, city and interstate artists. We will therefore do whatever we can within reason to assist you in delivery and collection.

 22. Arts in the Valley reserves the right to have accepted artwork and any images of artwork in the Exhibition reproduced for the exhibition catalogue, publicity, advertising, any electronic media or archival purposes in any manner connected with the Exhibition or its sponsors, now or in the future, including in any book by, or on, Arts in the Valley that may at any time become available for sale.
 23. Should the artist wish to use images of accepted artwork for any promotional purposes including websites, opening invitations or photos submitted to publications, please credit Visual Arts in the Valley and if possible establish a link to our website <https://www.artsinthevalley.net.au>
 24. The terms of this agreement apply into the future and are not limited to the year of exhibition.
